Statement of Real Estate Rentals

- Use this form if you own and rent real estate or other property. It relates mainly to renting real estate but also covers some other types of rental property such as farmland. This form will help you determine your gross rental income, the expenses you can deduct, and your net rental income or loss for the year.
- To determine whether your rental income is from property or a business, consider the number and types of services you provide for your tenants:

  - If you provide additional services such as cleaning, security and meals, you may be conducting a business.
- For more information about how to determine if your rental income comes from property or a business, see Interpretation Bulletin IT-434, Rental of Real Property by Individual, and its Special Release.
- If you are a co-owner of a property, you have to determine if a partnership exists before filling in the Identification part below. To determine if you are in a partnership, see Income Tax Folio S4-F16-C1, What is a Partnership?

If no property is left in the class and there is a positive amount in this column, deduct the amount from income as a terminal loss in Part 4 on line 9790. Recapture and terminal loss do not apply to a Class 10.1 property unless it is a DIEP. For more information, read Chapter 3 of Guide T4002.

 For information on CCA for "Part 7 – Calculating business-use-of-home expenses," see "Special situations" in Chapter 4 of Guide T4002. To help you calculate the CCA, see the calculation charts in Areas B to H.

See next page for notes 1 to 5.

Note 1: Columns 4, 6, 8 and 9 apply only to designated immediate expensing properties (DIEPs) (see Regulation 1104(3.1) of the federal Income Tax Regulations for the definitions). A DIEP is a property that you acquired after December 31, 2021, and became available for use in the current year. For more information, see Guide T4036.

Note 2: The immediate expensing applies to DIEPs included in column 8. The total immediate expensing amount for the tax year (total of column 9) is limited to the lesser of:

1. the immediate expensing limit, which is equal to one of the following, whichever is applicable:
   - $1.5 million, if you are not associated with any other EPOP in the tax year
   - amount iii of Area G, if you are associated with one or more EPOPs in the tax year
   - nil, if you are associated with one or more EPOPs and an agreement that assigns a percentage to one or more of the associated EPOPs was not file with the Minister in a prescribed form
   - any amount allocated by the Minister under subsection 1104(3.4) of the Regulations
2. the UCC of DIEPs in column 8
3. the amount from line 9946 before any CCA deductions, which is income earned from the rental operations in which the DIEPs are used

For more information, see Guide T4036.

Note 3: Columns 11, 13 and 14 apply only to accelerated investment incentive properties (AIIPs) (see Regulation 1104(4) of the federal Income Tax Regulations for the definition), zero-emission vehicles (ZEVs), zero-emission passenger vehicles (ZEPVs) and other eligible zero-emission automotive equipment and vehicles that become available for use in the year. In this chart, ZEV represents ZEVs, ZEPVs and other eligible zero-emission automotive equipment and vehicles. An AIIP is a property (other than ZEV) that you acquired after November 20, 2018, and became available for use before 2028. A ZEV is a motor vehicle included in Class 54 or 55 that you acquired after March 18, 2019, and became available for use before 2028, or eligible zero-emission automotive equipment and vehicles included in Class 56 acquired after March 1, 2020, and that became available for use before 2028. For more information, see Guide T4036.

Note 4: The proceeds of disposition of a ZEPV that has been included in Class 54 and that is subject to the $59,000 capital cost limit will be adjusted based on a factor equal to the capital cost limit of $59,000 as a proportion of the actual cost of the vehicle. For dispositions after July 29, 2019, you will have to adjust the actual cost of the vehicle for any payments or repayments of government assistance that you may have received or repaid in respect of the vehicle. The proceeds of disposition of a passenger vehicle purchased after April 18, 2021, that has been included in Class 10.1 and that is subject to the $34,000 capital cost limit will be adjusted based on a factor equal to the capital cost limit of $34,000 as a proportion of the actual cost of the vehicle. Where the passenger vehicle in Class 10.1 is not designated for immediate expensing treatment, this special rule does not apply. For more information on proceeds of disposition, read "Class 10.1 (30%)" and "Class 54 (30%)" in Guide T4036.

Note 5: The relevant factors for properties available for use before 2024 are 2 1/3 (Classes 43.1, 54 and 56), 1 1/2 (Class 55), 1 (Classes 43.2 and 53), 0 (Classes 12 and 13) and 1/2 for the remaining AIIPs.

For more information on AIIPs, CCA, ZEVs and ZEPVs, see Guide T4036 or go to canada.ca/taxes-accelerated-investment-income.

T1-2022

Canada Pension Plan Contributions and Overpayment

Schedule 8

Protected B when completed

The Canada Pension Plan (CPP) was amended to provide for the enhancement of pensions. The government of Quebec also adopted legislative amendments to enhance the Quebec Pension Plan (QPP) in a similar way as the federal plan. The enhancements are funded by additional enhanced contributions that began in January 2019.

The contributions consist of a base amount and an enhanced amount. As an employee, your employer will have already deducted the contributions from your salary and wages. As a self-employed individual, you will calculate your required contributions (if any) on this schedule including the base and the enhanced amounts.

For more information, see lines 22200, 22215, 30800, and 31000 of the Federal Income Tax and Benefit Guide.

Is this form for you?

Complete this schedule to calculate your required CPP contributions or overpayment for 2022 if you were a resident of a province or territory other than Quebec on December 31, 2022, and you have no earned income from the province of Quebec. Attach a copy of this schedule to your paper return.

Do not complete this schedule if any of your T4 slips show QPP contributions. Instead, complete Form RC381, Inter-Provincial Calculation for CPP and QPP Contributions and Overpayments.

Which parts of this schedule do you need to complete?

Part 1 – Complete this part if you are electing to stop contributing to the CPP or you are revoking a prior election.

Part 2 – Complete this part to determine the number of months for the CPP contributions calculation.

Part 3 – Complete this part if you are reporting employment income.

Part 4 – Complete this part if you are reporting only self-employment income or other earnings you are electing to pay CPP contributions on.

Part 5 – Complete this part if you are reporting employment income and self-employment income or other earnings you are electing to pay CPP contributions on. (You must first complete Part 3.)

Part 1 – Election to stop contributing to the CPP or revocation of a prior election

You were considered a CPP working beneficiary and were required to make CPP contributions in 2022 if you met all of the following conditions:

- You were 60 to 70 years of age
- You received a CPP or QPP retirement pension
- You had employment income or self-employment income or both

However, if you were at least 65 years of age but under 70 years of age, you can elect to stop paying CPP contributions.

Employment income

If you had employment income for 2022 and you elected in 2022 to stop paying CPP contributions or revoked in 2022 an election made in a previous year, you should have already completed and sent Form CPT30, Election to Stop Contributing to the Canada Pension Plan or Revocation of a Prior Election, to the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) and your employer(s).

Self-employment income only

If you had only self-employment income for 2022 and are electing in 2022 to stop paying CPP contributions on your self-employment earnings, enter the month in 2022 you are choosing to start this election on line 50372 on the next page. The date cannot be earlier than the month you turn 65 years of age and are receiving a CPP or QPP retirement pension. For example, if you turn 65 in June, you can choose any month from June to December. If you choose the month of June, enter "06" on line 50372.

If, in 2022, you are revoking an election made in a previous year on contributions on self-employment earnings, enter the month in 2022 you are choosing to revoke this election on line 50374 on the next page. Your election remains valid until you revoke it or turn 70 years of age. If you start receiving employment income (other than employment income earned in Quebec) in a future year, you will need to complete Form CPT30 in that year for your election to remain valid.

Part 1 – Election to stop contributing to the CPP or revocation of a prior election (continued)

Employment and self-employment income

If you had both employment income and self-employment income in 2022 and you wanted to elect to stop paying CPP contributions in 2022 or revoke in 2022 an election made in a previous year, you should have completed Form CPT30 in 2022. An election filed using Form CPT30 applies to all income from pensionable earnings, including self-employment earnings, as of the first day of the month after the date you gave this form to your employer.

If you completed and sent Form CPT30 when you became employed in 2022, but your intent was to elect in 2022 to stop paying CPP contributions or revoke an election made in a previous year on your self-employment income before you became employed, enter the month you want to stop contributing on line 50372.

If you want to revoke in 2022 an election made in a previous year, enter the month you want to resume contributing on line 50374.

If you did not complete and send Form CPT30 for 2022 when you became employed, you cannot elect to stop paying CPP contributions or revoke an election made in a previous year on your self-employment earnings for 2022 on this schedule.

Election or revocation

If you had self-employment income in 2022, an election or revocation that begins in 2022 must be filed on or before June 15, 2024, to be valid.

I elect to stop contributing to the Canada Pension Plan on my self-employment earnings on the first day of the month entered on line 50372.	50372	Month

- They were not enrolled as a full-time student at a designated educational institution for a total of more than 13 weeks in the year unless they had an eligible dependant at the end of the year
- They were not confined to a prison or similar institution for a period of at least 90 days during the year
- They were not exempt from income tax in Canada for a period in the year when they were an officer or a servant of another country (such as a diplomat) residing in Canada or they were a family member who resided with such a person, or an employee of such a person, at any time in the year

An eligible dependant is a person who meets all of the following conditions:

- They were your or your spouse's or common-law partner's child

  Note: For the purposes of this claim, a child includes a person under your custody and control who was wholly dependent on you for support. A child you lived with and cared for under a kinship or close relationship program (of the federal government, a provincial or territorial government or an Indigenous governing body), can still be an eligible dependant, even if you received payments under that program, as long as the payments were not a children's special allowance for that child.
- They were under 19 years of age and lived with you on December 31, 2022 (or, if they died after June 30, 2022, they lived with you on the date of death and would have been under 19 years of age on December 31, 2022)
- They were not eligible for the CWB for 2022

If you have a net capital loss in 2022 and would like to apply it against the taxable capital gains that you reported on your 2019, 2020, or 2021 return, complete Form T1A, Request for Loss Carryback.

You can carry forward your net capital losses indefinitely and apply them against your taxable capital gains in the future.

Principal residence

Complete this part if you disposed of a property (or properties) in 2022 that you are claiming a principal residence exemption for.

Also complete Form T2091(IND), Designation of a Property as a Principal Residence by an Individual (Other than a Personal Trust), or Form T1255, Designation of a Property as a Principal Residence by the Legal Representative of a Deceased Individual, whichever applies.

Even if you do not sell your property, you may have a deemed disposition that you must report. A deemed disposition occurs when you are considered to have disposed of property even though you did not actually sell it. For example, a deemed disposition may occur when you change how you use your principal residence, such as when you change all or part of your principal residence to a rental or business operation, or change your rental or business operation to a principal residence.

If you were not a resident of Canada for the entire time you owned the designated property, your period of non-residence may reduce or eliminate the amount of the principal residence exemption. For more information, call the CRA at 1-800-959-8281.

Alternative Minimum Tax

Use this form to calculate your federal tax payable under alternative minimum tax for 2022. If you are completing a return for a trust, use T3 Schedule 12, Minimum Tax.

Complete parts 1, 2, and 8 if you do not have to pay minimum tax in 2022 and you are applying a minimum tax carryover from previous years against your tax payable for 2022.

Attach a completed copy of this form to your return.
