To Mark:
As we have not had a response from you as indicated on your previous communication, we require payment of the outstanding rent balance, as noted in our correspondence to yourself.
Please advise if you are able to forward this.
Alternatively we will require arrangements to end the tenancy.
As of this date there is an added $1000.00 for February rent, bringing the balance owing to $3500.00.
Please reply today.

M Where's the form 7

M Have you made your application to the court yet

Are you denying that you owe the rent requested?

Thu. 11:09 a.m. • SMS

M Of course not

Are you refusing to leave?

M If I see a court order

Legality is only required if the tenant denies reason for request to vacate and upon the tenants refusal to vacate.
So, I ask again, are you refusing to vacate the premises for cause?

Thu. 11:13 a.m. • SMS

M Do you have a writ of procession

Mark KRUGER

Writ of possession is only required when tenant refuses to vacate. You know a landlord has the right to request tenant to vacate after 15 days of non payment of rent. You have been given 3 months of repeated requests. I have all the communications.
Are you refusing to vacate for cause?

My Right to Dispute
If I do not move out by the date on the notice, you the landlady cannot physically remove you or change the locks. They must apply to the ORT for a Possession Order.
The Hearing: You will be served with a notice of a hearing

Thu. 11:30 a.m.

An order is applied for upon the Tenants refusal to leave or disputing the reason for eviction.
Are you disputing reason for eviction?
Or
Are you refusing to vacate?
A direct answer to the question would be appreciated.

Please note sentence 1 under heading. Resolution is to be attempted between landlord and Tennant prior to involving ORT.
Please reply,
Are you refusing to vacate?
And, on what grounds?

Thu. 11:50 a.m. • MMS

M

Well then you'll have to go to ORT

Are you disputing the rental arrears?
Or
Are you simply refusing to vacate?

Thu. 12:16 p.m. • SMS

Thursday • 2:49 p.m.

Not disputing the rental errors

M

I'm refusing to vacate
